FREE GOLD IN THE BIRCH CREEK

Great excitement was prevalent in Austin this week over the display of some phenomenally rich free gold specimens from the Nevada Birch Creek company's workings, says the Bee-River Reveille. The specimens came from a new branch of the upper tunnel, and the existence of this high-grade in the spot where it was found is very promising. The rock is a reddish brown decomposed quartz, carrying wonderfully high values in leaf gold with occasional grains varying in size from a mere "color" to that of large sized bird shot. The leaf gold occurs in masses, one leaf piled on another, while the granulated particles are disseminated throughout the mass. The full face of the drift is in this brown quartz, with occasional streaks of the leafy stuff and samples taken at random from this face invariably have yielded astonishingly large streaks of colors and washed yielding a string probably an inch in length. The company has been driving a tunnel to cut the ore body at depth, and to get a more definite idea as to the dip trend of the vein, was running this branch from the Cahill tunnel when this face of high-grade appeared. The work done has given an opportunity for a survey, showing that the dip of the vein is much less than other signs indicated, and the course of the work in the lower tunnel has been changed to suit the information gained. It is expected that the ore will be encountered by this change, probably in a week, or two weeks at most.

LEGION DANCE A GREAT SUCCESS

First annual dance of this patriotic organization came off as per scheduled at the Airdome last night. The surging mass that filled the Airdome in the early part of the evening clung to the bleachers. A few of the patriotic song numbers which have been orchestrated for dance purposes were put on the program. Right quick the bleachers were empty and a sea of moving faces was all that was presentable from the stage. At the conclusion of these numbers, which the boys from the trenches recognized as the songs which were popular with the American forces while facing the Hun, cries of "more, more, more" etc., were heard. At this point the invited guests of the ex-servicemen took on the spirit of the event and from then on until 1 o'clock in the morning there was not a wall flower in the bleachers, regardless of age. An ex-soldier of the Civil war was seen dancing with a lady member of the relief corps. Everybody present voted the American Legion some entertainers. Bill Young's professional orchestra furnished the music. The attendance was an eloquent rejoinder to the many predictions of the undesirable who said the citizens of Tonopah would not respond to the invitation of the Legion.
